»THE CANNON SERIES

- The Cannon was conceived by Purdue students more than 100 years ago but was first presented as a trophy by an Illinois alumnus in 1943.
- It all started in 1905 when a group of Purdue students took the weapon to Champaign in anticipation of firing it to celebrate a victory.
- Although Purdue did win the game 29-0, Illinois supporters, including Quincy A. Hall, had discovered the Cannon in its hiding place – in a culvert near the old Illinois field – and confiscated it before the Purdue students could start their “booming” celebration.
- Later, Hall moved the Cannon to his farmhouse near Milford, Illinois, where it survived a fire and gathered dust until Hall suggested it be used as a trophy in the football series between the two schools when the rivalry was resumed in 1943 after a 12-year lapse.
- The Tomahawk Service and Leadership Honorary at Purdue and Illini Pride now share the maintenance duty.
- Purdue leads the Cannon series 33-29-2, including eight wins in the last 11 matchups.

»MALONE IN THE COMMUNITY

- Offensive coordinator Terry Malone, in his second year at Purdue and first calling plays, never shies away from extending a helping hand.
- On Aug. 24, nine tornadoes touched down across Indiana, the worst an EF-3 with a peak wind at 152 miles per hour in Kokomo, located about 45 miles east of West Lafayette.
- While fortunately no lives were lost, more than 1,000 structures were damaged, including 200 deemed a total loss. More than 15,000 people were without power and more than 200 needed at least temporary shelter.
- Though just one week before the season-opener, Malone and his wife, Ann, cleared their Saturday, Aug. 27 schedule and drove over to help clean up.
- Malone said afterwards, "It was very satisfying. I'm not sure how much we did to help, because there's so much work to be done, but we cleared three or four yards of debris and cut a couple trees down. But we had a really good day."
- That was not the first time the Malones have stepped in after a disaster.

- Malone, who came to Purdue from the New Orleans Saints, opened his speech at the Purdue Football Preseason Banquet on Aug. 19, expected to be a quick overview of the offense, by asking the Boilermaker community for any help for his friends and neighbors back in Louisiana who are dealing with the tragic flooding.
- Malone was also helping in New Orleans after Hurricane Katrina, as he took the job in February 2006.
- Malone said Tuesday, "There was never a year in New Orleans without having something. So, it becomes a part of the way you think. The fact is that you really don't need to do a whole lot to help people who are in need. They really appreciate it and you get a lot more satisfaction of doing it than they probably do out of you helping them."

- The Boilermakers amassed more than 500 hours of community service from January to August of 2016 and have made more than 500 appearances at events and outings over the past five years.
- They have been involved with mission trips to Haiti and South Africa, pioneered community projects like Dream Season and IMPACT, and are regular visitors to local elementary schools.
- In addition to campus programs like the Purdue Dance Marathon for Riley Children's Hospital and the Purdue University Center for Cancer Research 5K run/walk, the football program has participated in the Indiana Blood Center blood drive each of the last 18 years.

»THE LINEBACKERS

»THE TRAIN IS COMING HERE

- Head coach Darrell Hazell saw a billboard on north I-65 towards campus that read, "The Train Is Coming."
- "The first year I saw it I said, 'It's OK.' The second and third year I said, 'You know what, it's starting to bother me a little bit.' In the back of my mind, I thought: 'At some point in time the train has to get here. It has to arrive.' "That sign is no longer there."-Hazell
- What is Hazell referring to? It's time to finish every game.
- The Boilermakers are a lot closer than it may seem, evident by the program's 1-7 record in one-possession games in the last three years, including 0-3 last year.
- Purdue was within a possession in the final quarter in five games last season:

»at Marshall - led with three minutes to go.

»vs. Bowling Green - had the ball at BG15 in tie game with three minutes to go.

»at Michigan State - had the ball across midfield down three with 1:30 to go.

»at Northwestern - game was tied with five minutes remaining.

»vs. Indiana - Purdue was within eight with 11 minutes left in the game.

- Those games didn't go Purdue's way, but now, with so much experience returning on both sides of the ball, "the train has to get here. It has to arrive."

- Purdue may have shown a glimpse of that against Nevada, coming back from a 14-3 deficit to win, including pitching a shutout in the second half.

»Breaking Down The Production

»'A' PLAYERS MUST GET A'S

- Darrell Hazell has a simple philosophy when it comes to success: "No one underachieves," he says. "Everyone will accomplish this through tireless work, an intellectual approach, extraordinary execution and the relentless pursuit of excellence. It is our obligation to the organization that we reach the level we are capable."
- Players with a cumulative grade-point average of 3.0 or better get their pictures on the "A Players Wall," located in the football office complex in the Mollenkopf Athletic Center.
- Currently, 46 players are featured on the wall.
- Through the spring 2016 semester, the Boilermakers achieved a composite GPA of 2.89, the highest mark on record (since 2001), and the team received the athletics department Provost Award for having the most improved GPA from the fall to spring semester.
- Furthermore, Hazell issues each of his players, coaches and support staff members an "A Player's Manual."

- This year's binder is filled with 760 pages of information and tactics on how to become a better player, student and person.
